

Problem:

Users who may have been residents of a particular area might need to get the contact information and other relevant details of hotels nearby. This might not be readily available, or may be tedious to collect.

Proposed Solution:

This app allows users to view contacts details of hotels within a predetermined region. The user can directly place calls, or visit the corresponding website from the app, besides viewing images of the hotel.